Women and the Cost of Living

Sarah Wollaston (Totnes, Conservative)

Today we have been talking about health care assistants, and there are 1.3 million women—"it is an almost entirely female work force"—doing that incredibly important job. All of them are likely to benefit from a rise in tax thresholds and very many of them from extra assistance with child care.

They Work For You

Hansard