I was privileged to meet my constituent Helen Skinner, an epilepsy specialist nurse who spoke compellingly from both her own family's personal experience and her professional experience about the need to prevent avoidable deaths as a result of seizures. We discussed the need to improve the recording of epilepsy related deaths because clear and accurate data plays an important role in driving effective change. We also discussed the impact of discrimination in the workplace on those living with epilepsy.