Sarah Wollaston (Totnes, Conservative) Will the Minister address the question of how long these vulnerable people were filmed being abused, because that simply would not have been tolerated if they were children?

Paul Burstow (Minister of State (Care Services), Health) My hon. Friend makes an important point. I do not know the answer to the question of how long the people were filmed before the whistle was blown again by "Panorama". However, it is an important point that will undoubtedly become clearer as we come on to the details of the inquiry.
