Cancer Drugs

Sarah Wollaston (Totnes, Conservative)

To ask the Secretary of State for Health

(1) how many patients in each parliamentary constituency have received access to drugs on the Cancer Drugs Fund since its creation;

(2) how many patients (a) under the age of five, (b) between the age of five and 10 and (c) between the age of 10 and 16 years have received access to drugs through the Cancer Drugs Fund since its creation; and what the total cost for this treatment has been.

Paul Burstow (Minister of State (Care Services), Health; Sutton and Cheam, Liberal Democrat)

Information on patients funded through the Cancer Drugs Fund is not collected at parliamentary constituency level. Information on the age of patients who have received cancer drugs is also not collected.
