Sarah Wollaston (Totnes, Conservative) Click here to watch Sarah speak

Better tantric than premature—we have all seen where that got the Leader of the Opposition on Leveson. We are waiting breathlessly for my right hon. Friend's speech in mid-January. Will he include in it a statement on the impact on employment in this country of an influx of Bulgarian and Romanian workers?

David Cameron (Prime Minister; Witney, Conservative)

Given my hon. Friend's medical background, I think that I will leave all such remarks to her and not make them myself. She makes an important point about the end of transitional controls. Obviously, I will look at that issue carefully.

They Work For You

Hansard